

ROHS exemption applicable on SOURIAU products

Lead exemption :

- Lead as an alloying element in steel alloy up to 0.35%, in aluminium alloy up to 0.4%, in copper alloy up to 4%.
- Lead as an alloying element in high melting temperature solder, which contain at least 85% of lead.
- Lead as an alloying element in solder for server storage and storage array systems, network infrastructure equipment for switching, signalling, transmission as well as network management for telecommunication (exempted until 2010).

Cadmium exemption :

- Cadmium as coating element is allowed for aeronautic, spatial, mining application, Off-shore and nuclear application.
- Cadmium as coating element is allowed on electrical contact

PBDE exemption :

- DecaBDE used in polymer application